SMELLING THE STARS

The power of scent to affect our minds, our emotions and physiological well-being is being studied more than ever, with scientists now agreeing that certain aromas affect people in certain specific ways. Soular Therapy, a line of home and personal fragrances from San Antonio, Texas, goes one further: founders Kevin and Andrew (last names unknown!) – and we quote – combine “the wisdom of Astrology and Aromatherapy” to create unique fragrances that “utilizes ancient formulations of plant and flower extracts uniquely associated and beneficial to individual astrological signs”. Is it wrong that we want all 12 sets of soy candles, body washes and eau de toilettes for ourselves?
