the finer things in life

In these lifestyle stores, great things do come in small packages

Flaming Queen

This compact boutique's tantalising collective scent will inspire you to infuse your entire abode with distinct scents. Founded in 2007 by Judy Millar and her husband Russel Wong, Flaming Queen provided a certain je ne sais quoi that our local home fragrance market was missing. Each product sold in this boutique shop is hand-selected (or shall we say nose-selected?) by Judy from European villages and different towns from around the world. With its extensive range of captivating fragrance products, you're bound to sniff out the perfect scent that will lend a scent-sational personality to your home, or maybe even your car.

What's hot?

Take our word for it. The Linari range of quality room fragrances are exquisitely scented works of aesthetic beauty. With diffuser bottles crafted from Italian glass and lids carved out of solid fine grain wood, it's certainly the crème de la crop. Flaming Queen also carries a collection of zebrawood and black ebony veneer diffuser covers from Linari that exude minimalist charm. These cylindrical covers camouflage the glass bottle to stylishly blend in with the décor of your home or stand out for luxurious appeal.

Why we like it?

It's more than just a fragrance store; it's a whole new way of infusing space with sensual ambience – with planet care in mind. The Dayna Decker collection is the latest line to land on our shores and we love the fact that it's environment-friendly and free from 'bad stuff' (read: parabens, synthetic colours and petrolatum). For the the bath, Poo-Pourri bathroom sprays that use essential oils to banish odours are definitely must-haves in every eco-conscious household. And with elegant scents encased in such stylish bottles, what's not to love?

Flaming Queen is located at #02-32, Mandarin Gallery, 333A Orchard Road. Call +65 6737-0801 or visit www.flaming-queen.com for more information.

Must-buys!

The divinely scented Dayna Decker Luminesse Sculpture glistens like a portable fireplace with a state-of-the-art wick system. An elegant addition to contemporary spaces!
